Description

Real food produce fresh “stabilized” culinary specialties that maintain unaltered their own organoleptic characteristics out of fridge, at room temperature, also for 6 months since their packaging. They have to be warmed up in the microwave for a little more than a minute and, once opened, they release a taste and an intense fragrance similarly to a fresh culinary dish. They are completely without preservatives, additives, food coloring and so on, but they are 100% natural and guarantee a regular calorie count and an high level of digestibility. At the moment 18 types of first and second dishes are available and we are going to introduce the new BIO line for the healthy and biological nutrition lovers.
